

Christmas 2022

Dear Friends and Family,

Happy Holidays from the Smiths! Sarah (22) spent the summer working on a reality show about treasure hunters but accidentally sank their boat while testing her metal detector. Alex (16) hacked into the school's PA system and gave a live commentary on gym class. He's grounded for life—or at least until next week.

John built a jet-powered lawn mower, which worked great until it launched over the fence and into the highway. As for me, I accidentally got ordained online and officiated a wedding...for our pet goldfish.

Wishing you a fishy but fabulous holiday season!

Swimming in chaos,
