

Christmas 2019

Dear Friends and Family,

What a year! Sarah (19) backpacked across Europe, where she accidentally became a stunt double in a French action movie. She's now the face of a hit video game. Alex (13) built a submarine out of recycling bins and took it for a test dive in the community pool. He's grounded until further notice.

John ran for local office on the platform of "more barbecue festivals." He didn't win, but now he's famous at the farmer's market. Meanwhile, I started an alpaca farm by accident when I adopted what I thought were giant sheep.

Wishing you an alpaca-free holiday season!

Woolly and wonderful,
The Smith Family
