

Christmas 2015

Dear Friends and Family,

It's been an interesting year. Sarah (15) started a detective agency and solved the case of Mrs. Jenkins' missing garden gnome. Turns out, Alex (9) had turned it into a rocket booster for his new hoverboard. The hoverboard worked—until it didn't.

John decided to build an eco-friendly sauna in the backyard but forgot to turn off the steam. We accidentally created a rainforest, and now tropical birds have moved in. I started taking dance classes but accidentally signed up for a fire-dancing troupe. Fun fact: I'm terrible with fire.

Wishing you a Christmas free from gnomes and flames!

Steaming ahead,
The Smith Family
